Steaming slowly up the harbor, between long lines of gaily decorated shipping past the American and foreign men of war—including the U. S. cruiser Chicago, the British cruiser Retribution and the French cruiser Tronde—acknowledging with the heavy voice of her whistle and by the dipping of her ensign her vociferous welcome, the great Dominion liner—the largest ship that enters Boston harbor, moored at her dock in Charlestown almost on the stroke of nine. Here, drawn up on the main floor of the pier shed was the Ancient and Honourable Artillery Company to greet its guests. Outside were the National Landers, the First Corps of Cadets, the First Regiment of Heavy Artillery, battalions from three regiments of the Massachusetts Militia and representatives from the British Army and Navy Veterans and from the Sixty-sixth Regiment of Halifax.

The formalities of entering the London party having been passed while down the bay, the line of march was formed at once and the procession passed directly from Charlestown to the city to be reviewed at the City Hall by Mayor Collins and at the State House by Gov. COMPULSORY ARBITRATION.

J. Powell Donellan Preparing a Draft Labor Law.

New York, Oct. 2.—J. Powell Donellan, the Nassau street lawyer who has just returned from an extensive study of the strike in England, is preparing a compulsory arbitration bill, to be introduced at the coming session of the state legislature by an association of contractors, builders and material men of the state.

Mr. Donellan says: "England has suffered from the strike evil to an extent of which we as yet know little. She has practically solved the problem by a system of laws which makes striking a criminal offense. In Australia compulsory arbitration is a marked success.

"Our association is conferring with state senators on the subject, and we propose to draft and put through a law which will force the warring delegate out of existence. Such a law is entirely constitutional, as is proved by the fact that the courts have repeatedly by injunction forbidden men to strike, under the penalty of imprisonment. We propose to embody this in a permanent law and provide a court of arbitration to which appeal will be compulsory in all cases of difficulty between capital and labor."

MEN STILL OUT AT HARDWICK

No Settlement Reached This Forenoon.

A CONFERENCE WAS HELD

Demands of Men are for 8 Hour Day, Bi-monthly Payment, etc.—Statement By The Bosses.

Hardwick, Oct. 2.—No agreement was reached between the bosses and their men at a conference held this forenoon at 10 o'clock, and the way the situation looks now there is no sign of a settlement. The outsiders who left their work yesterday afternoon to attend the union meeting were back at work this morning. It is probable that another conference will be held soon.

It is understood the demands of the Lumpers and Drillers' Union who went out yesterday are in brief as follows: An eight-hour day, such an increase in pay per hour as shall make the day figure as now, pay and one-fourth for overtime and a bi-weekly pay day.

A committee of granite manufacturers has made the following statement of their side of the case:

First—The proposed union makes its demands for immediate acceptance without any notice whatever, while under ordinary conditions at least three months' advance notice is required. No intimation had been given of any such demand for eight hours or advance pay, while contracts of varying amounts have been taken by the manufacturers upon the expectation that conditions would remain as they are.

Secondly—The union demands eight hours for the working day and time and one-quarter for overtime. The manufacturers believe that it is impossible to run granite plants with the lumpers working only the same time as the cutters, as they need at least one extra hour for boxing and banking the stone and to keep the sheds cleaned out in proper shape. It is impossible to run derricks and cranes with the amount of help that would be required to meet these conditions if they are to be run only the same time that the cutters are running.

Thirdly—The advance in pay demanded by the union is out of all reason. The manufacturers are convinced that the pay they are now receiving compares favorably with any other granite center, yet the advance demanded taken in connection with the eight hours means an increase of anywhere from 25 to 50 or 60 per cent.

At the same time the manufacturers believe they are showing a disposition to meet them fairly in their proposition to recognize the union and to give them an advance of pay amounting to 10 per cent. Beyond this they feel that business conditions will prohibit their going. The manufacturers are unanimous in the position they are taking and wish it understood that the advance proposed is precisely that now in force in Barre on a union bill that holds good until 1905, and the manufacturers in Hardwick feel very positive that business conditions in Hardwick do not warrant their paying higher prices for common help than is paid by their nearest and strongest competitors.

This statement is made as they wish to have their position properly understood by the community and with the feeling that the position they are taking is one that is imperatively demanded by conditions over which they have no control.

A PERSONAL LETTER.

Rev. T. H. Mitchell Writes of Plans to Raise Presbyterian Church Debt.

Dear Mr. Editor: The church over which I have the honor to preside ministers to many people whose interest I cannot hope to secure from the pulpit. Will you grant me a little space in your paper today in order that I may direct the attention of these to a project that just now is in the thought of my congregation?

The debt upon the building in which we worship is $25,000. To pay interest on this amount year by year is a drain upon our resources and a hindrance to our usefulness. We have decided that the time has come to make an effort to clear it away. Why now?

First, because in New York city last Monday the "Board of the Church Erection Fund" voted to appropriate to our needs $1,500, this sum to be paid as when the balance of our indebtedness shall have been collected. Secondly, because from another source we have the promise of twenty-five dollars for every seventy-five we may be able to raise. We are convinced that with such encouragement we shall easily succeed in our undertaking if each member and adherent and friend of the church will but respond, as he or she may be able, to the invitation that is to be extended in this connection during the next four weeks.

Contributions may be made either in cash or in the form of pledges payable on or before April 1, 1904, and may be sent to the treasurer of the church, Mr. Wm. Brown, 9 Grant Ave., or directly to me.

I write this personal note not to appeal to the members of other communions who have large burdens of their own to bear, but rather to enlist the sympathy and the active cooperation of those who look upon our church as their religious home. To all such let me say, "Come over into Macedonia and help us." The only reward we offer is a share in the satisfaction of seeing a society, that has had its full measure of painful struggle, at last lifting up its head and doing the Master's work with greater ease. I am, Sir, very truly yours,

Thos. H. Mitchell,
First Presbyterian Church,
Barre, Vt., Oct. 2, 1903.

THEY WENT HOME AGAIN.

Carpenters Who Came to Set Fixtures in Currier Block Did Not Stop.

The Randolph Herald and News publishes the following in this week's issue: Last week the E. F. Emerson company shipped to Barre three carloads of interior wood finish for the new Currier block. The contract for this job covered the setting up and varnishing, so W. C. Emerson with several carpenters went up to complete the work. While the goods were being unloaded at the station, an agent of the Carpenters' Union appeared and addressed Mr. Emerson as follows:

"Are these finishings going into the Currier block?"

"That's the plan."

"Are these men going to put them in?"

"I expect so."

"Well, I can't stop them. They can go ahead, of course. But there are about 40 carpenters at work on the Currier block who will quit the minute these men of yours begin. Further, Mr. Carrier wants tenants for his stores. He can't rent them unless the merchants get union patronage. See. Think it over."

Mr. Emerson consulted Mr. Carrier and the result was that the Randolph carpenters folded up their kits and came home leaving the work to be finished by the Barre union men.

ONLY THING THEY COULD DO

Was to Revoke License, Say Brattleboro License Commissioners.

Brattleboro, Oct. 1.—The decision of the license commissioners, by which the hotels are deprived of their licenses, for which they paid $3,800, was freely discussed in Brattleboro yesterday. The Melrose at West Brattleboro had been crowded all summer with city boarders. Just what the landlords will do is a question which will be decided in a few days. The license board declares that three of the leading lawyers of Windham county are responsible for the decision, and that they had no alternative but to follow the course they took in the matter.
